Notepad 1.0.6

Information about the Project:

Notepad is a project to create the best version of a simple notepad that contains everything you need to write notes and is more customizable, more able to do anything than a normal notepad.

Currently, it can insert time, show a piece of code, choose a custom font, give you a custom username, insert links, insert iFrames and Images, and allow you to save it. It also has dark mode, and a button to customize the background, which complements the Main Notepad function. To do this, instead of using classic text, we allowed you to edit the entire page (excluding the taskbar).

This program contains more features than a classic notepad, and its saving features contain your previously saved Username, which means that you can use the same username as you did before.

The program is in 1.0.6 Alpha, which means bugs and issues are still relevant throughout the program. This program also allows you to make a popup, making it more convenient through a custom popup that shows on your page.

If you are offline, the program will still work, just animations will be canceled, but can still be used. This program contains a major bulk of major Notepads, except for the addition of custom features that only we add.

The bulk of these features are built-in, (excluding the animations) which allows it to be semi-offline, which will enable you to edit, create, and save notes on the go.

The Program also saves data through localStorage, which at times is not secure, which means that any critical data should not enter this library. It also uses a key to access the data, which the user comes up with.

In Conclusion, Notepad V1.0.6 Allows you to edit, and create new notes with more features than others.

Starting:
First to start you go to download it and then click on "loading.html" to begin the html adventure. Type a username and click the button to acess.
Then after that, you should be redirected to "Editable notepad". After that, you should see a taskbar. In that taskbar every feature will be shown here:
